MESSAGE FROM THE CITY MANAGER

This is my last article while serving as your City Manager. On January 7, 2019, Carl Cole, our former Police Chief will begin his service in this crazy, interesting, and challenging position. On the same day, I will begin a two-month transition as a Special Advisor to the City Council and City Manager.

This transition is a well thought out strategy between the City Council and these two professional managers to smoothly move from one administration to the next. Most cities do not have the opportunity to transition, except in the very rare case where a Manager retires and the incoming Manager is on board (yeah SeaTac!). So, over the next few months, City Manager Cole and I will continue working together; now in our new roles, through a seamless hand-off of duties and many briefings on current and ongoing issues. This time will also allow me the opportunity to advance or complete some key projects and assignments.

My last day with the City will be Friday, March 15, 2019. I was originally hired in February 2013 as Director of Community and Economic Development, and have been serving as City Manager since April 2016. I am completing my four-decade plus career of public service and will be retiring. This will be a new and challenging change for me, so wish me luck!

Over these last three years, I have truly appreciated the Council's rock-solid support for my efforts as City Manager; for always having my back; and for trusting in my leadership of our City. Together with our strong team of Directors and Managers, we have been able to positively transform this organization. It has been a powerfully effective time of collaboration, accountability, continuous improvement, economic development initiatives, and regulatory streamlining. I also appreciate the support of the SeaTac community as we have addressed a wide variety of issues. I believe each of you individually have contributed to the difference.

In closing, I want to thank you for the opportunity to have served SeaTac as the City Manager. I will leave with more than six years of service to the City, believing that I have been able to successfully represent our City, and implement positive, lasting changes to our organization. I feel honored and privileged to have been able to conclude my career in public service for the SeaTac community.

Thank you again.

JOSEPH SCORCIO, AICP • City Manager

COUNCILMEMBER AMINA AHMED PASSING

The City of SeaTac is deeply saddened by the sudden death of Councilmember Amina Ahmed on December 8, 2018.

Ahmed died as a result of injuries suffered during an auto collision.

We are thankful for the contributions she made to the betterment of our community.

Councilmember Ahmed was asked to write an article for the magazine. Below is her letter to the residents of the City written before her untimely death. We wanted to share it with you to honor her memory.

IN APPRECIATION

I offer a heartfelt thank you to the SeaTac community and the SeaTac City Council for giving me the opportunity to serve as the newest member of this Council. When I moved to South King County in 1999, I never imagined that I would have this unique opportunity to give back to the community I have worked in and called home for almost two decades.

My work serving the recently arrived refugee and immigrant communities in South King County has provided me with a unique perspective to understand the needs and services that best support all SeaTac residents. My extensive background in Human Services and Workforce Development help me design services and support economic development that is so vital to SeaTac's continued growth. I look forward to working with my fellow Councilmembers and staff to ensure that our current economic stability is carried well into the future.

Although we don't have to agree on every issue, I believe it will take all of us coming together to approach issues with discussion and logic that fully benefit our entire community of SeaTac. I will continue to encourage others to join me in serving our community and to discuss those issues which are most important to our residents. Further, I look forward to hearing your thinking in how together we can approach and focus on solutions as we grow and change with time.

I am so grateful for your belief in me and I am looking forward to meeting and working with all of the citizens of SeaTac.

IN MEMORIAM
Amina Ahmed
1966-2018

COUNCILMEMBER Amina Ahmed was appointed to Position Number 5 on October 13, 2018 by unanimous vote by the City Council. Since joining the Council, she has served as a member on the Public Safety & Justice Committee and Sidewalk Advisory Committee.

Councilmember Ahmed's service extended beyond the City Council, as she has been a positive force in the community for the past two decades. Ahmed moved to South King County in 1999 and began non-profit advocacy and services delivery work in the City of SeaTac in 2002. During her time in SeaTac, she worked tirelessly to ensure the coordination of services for refugees and immigrants and raise awareness of issues that affect refugee and immigrant communities through Washington State. She served on several committees and work groups including the Regional Pre-Apprenticeship Committee, Governor's Workgroup on Poverty Reduction, King County Refugee and Immigrants Commission, Refugee and Immigrants Tri-County Committee, Refugee Advocacy Committee, Regional Workforce Equity Committee, and Regional Workforce Strategies groups. She was nominated twice to the Refugee Advisory Council to represent and serve King County Region 2.

In 2015, Ahmed founded and became Executive Director of Partner in Employment, a SeaTac based workforce services nonprofit agency. While overseeing the largest refugee and immigrants program in south King County, Ahmed was able to successfully leverage Federal, State, County, City and philanthropic funds to design, develop, and deliver programs that have reduced barriers and uplifted and resolved SeaTac residents' housing, employment, and English language acquisition needs. Ahmed believed in improving residents' outcomes by engaging with community leaders and stakeholders, so together they could produce results to better the City and County.

Ahmed attended Carleton University, Ottawa, Canada; Concordia University, Montreal, Canada; and Algonquin Community College, Ontario, Canada.

Ahmed is survived by an adult daughter and son.

NEW CITY MANAGER

My name is Carl Cole, but you can call me Carl. I will be taking over the helm of SeaTac as the new City Manager in January 2019. I have worked in government service for over 28 years, the last 27 as a member of the King County Sheriff's Office. The majority of the last 20 years I have spent working in and around SeaTac and I have great affection for our diverse communities. With the Sheriff's Office, I have held a number of ranks and assignments, including my most recent honor, serving as your Police Chief.

I graduated from Pacific Lutheran University in 1991 with a BA degree in Psychology and minors in Religion and Biology. As I progressed through my career serving as a patrol officer, detective, trainer and sergeant, I realized that law enforcement as an industry was in need of professional leadership. It was clear that being a good street cop had no bearing on your qualifications or abilities as a good administrator or executive. At that time, my career plan was to regularly promote and become a police chief someday. In order to ensure I was qualified, I enrolled at the Evans School at the University of Washington and received my Masters in Public Administration degree in 2002. During my studies, I was exposed to aspects of government with which I was previously unfamiliar. This inspired me to become a city manager after my law enforcement career was over.

I have found this opportunity in SeaTac. I am so deeply honored to be trusted with this most important responsibility. I look forward to continuing the community engagement I started in the Police Department and hope to make welcome all in our community in every aspect of your governance. I don't stand on formality and am open to ideas from every direction. SeaTac has undergone a significant transformation in the last three years and thanks to the dedicated employees and the leadership of Joe Scorcio, we are on a path towards excellence. I have every confidence that working together, we will achieve even more and continue to not only be the city where "Everywhere is Possible", but also one where anything is possible!

CARL COLE • City Manager

A look back at THE LAST FEW YEARS

IN 2013, THE CITY OF SEATAC WAS STILL RECOVERING FROM THE NATIONAL FINANCIAL CRISIS of 2007/2008 and the great recession of the early 2010's. While the local economy was showing indications of a strong recovery, the City, like most of its counterparts, were slowly recapturing the benefits. This is normal, as local government revenues and activities always have a lag time with the larger economy. Even with the recovery, and for a variety of reasons, the City began 2016 facing a projected revenue shortfall of $1.3 to $2.5 million. By implementing a managed reduction program in April 2016 (administrative actions), and promptly acting to capture revenues from the recovering economy (Council actions), the City instead ended 2016 with a $2.5 million year-end balance surplus in the General Fund.

The booming local economy over these years has provided the biggest benefit, but these gains are always temporary, so a series of cohesive financial actions between the City administration and Council has led to many sustainable, positive changes. These sometimes challenging decisions work to promote and maintain long-term fiscal solvency for the City and to meet established transparency, accountability, and continuous improvement goals of the Council. Some of our joint accomplishments since 2016 include:

- Restructuring the overall budget to better link revenues with expenditures, with established performance objectives. The City's 2017-2018 and 2019-2020 budgets are based on conservatively projected revenues and moderately projected expenditures (budgeting within our means). Financial policies have been adopted to provide clear standards and expectations for future budgets.
- All Fund revenues are balanced with Fund expenditures, and restricted revenues sources are clearly distinct from less restricted/general revenues. This realignment ensures that all Funds remain individually balanced, including the establishment of reserve levels. These strategic operating reserves provide the "rainy day" funds to make sure City services are able to be maintain programs and services in emergency situations and provide a cushion for the next economic downturn.
- The City's General Fund strategic operating reserve has been increased from three to four months, and is fully funded. The City's annual property tax rate has lowered, and financial policies have been adopted that set performance standards before the tax rate will be increased in the future.
- Whenever practical, user-based fees have been established so that customers seeking direct services pay for those services, instead of using general property tax or sales tax dollars to offset the costs of those individual services. As a result, these user fees pay for an increasing portion of the staff and programs that provide these direct services.
- A three-year collective bargaining agreement stabilized labor costs, and set the stage for maintaining long-term cooperation. Direct contracting with employee benefits providers has allowed benefits to be maintained at better overall rates for both the employees and the City.
- Public safety programs have been enhanced by adding patrol officers, parking officers and a probation counselor.
- Performance monitoring and reporting standards for programs and capital projects have been established, including several one-time analyses of cost-benefit and revenue options for future consideration. City contracts and service agreements have been reviewed, and whenever practical, reissued to the competitive market before renewal. Major service agreements, such as Police, Fire, and Animal Control have been reviewed and adjusted.

With all of these changes, the City's financial condition continues to be strong. At the beginning of 2019, SeaTac will have a healthy $24 million dollars in all reserves in the 2019-2020 Biennial Budget approved by the Council, and is poised for maintaining current services for many years.

STRONGER STRATEGIC PARTNERSHIPS

The City must maintain mutually beneficial relationships with other cities, organizations and service providers. These strategic partnerships are critical to the long-term success of all the parties. Our largest partner is the Port of Seattle/Sea-Tac International Airport. The Airport is entirely within the City, comprises more than 40% of our City and is our most vital partner. After nearly two years of negotiations, a new Interlocal Agreement (ILA) went into effect in February 2018. The new 10-year agreement, with financial benefits of nearly $30 million, replaces a series of agreements that began with the original 1997 agreement. The new ILA is significantly different. It jointly established a mutual and cooperative system to recognize jurisdictional authorities and to avoid disputes. We still can disagree, argue and take legal actions if necessary, but the ILA provides transparency, predictability and consistency when addressing operations of Sea-Tac Airport and the City of SeaTac. This reduces the potential for costly litigation. The ILA is based on the principle that the City and Port/Airport are forever partners, and need to live, struggle and succeed together. The Airport needs the City, its local businesses and its residents to thrive. More than a quarter of all Sea-Tac airline passengers utilize businesses and services within the City to support their travel experiences. We are all in this together!

This new ILA includes enhanced community relief funds, which the City is using primarily to support public safety and traffic enforcement officers for the next decade. In addition, the agreement improves land use and development regulations that meet the unique needs of both the Port and the City and implements a quality assurance program for Port development permits. It improves the process for the Port to support City business license compliance. Lastly, the ILA opens up communication, outreach and cooperation opportunities at a much higher level than ever before.

The City Council launched the Sea-Tac Airport Advisory Committee (the first among the local communities). The purpose of the committee was to discuss both the positive and negative impacts of the airport in the City of SeaTac. Our community efforts in response to the Airport's removal of 3,000 trees in the City as part of the Flight Corridor Safety Program, led to a $1million Airport Community Ecology Fund and a tree replanting and monitoring program.

The City led the efforts, by committing significant matching dollars up front, in order to get the State legislature to fund a Sea-Tac Airport Impact Study. The $600,000 Study, being conducted by the State Department of Commerce is examining and documenting the current environmental, health, and economic impacts and benefits of the Sea-Tac International Airport on the surrounding communities. Like our Airport Committee, city residents are serving on an advisory board for this Study.

The City worked closely with the Port and our City partners to create the Sea-Tac Stakeholder Advisory Round Table (StART). The residents and representatives of the communities of SeaTac, Burien, Des Moines, Federal Way, Normandy Park, and Tukwila along with aviation industry representatives, federal staff and Port staff

"The ILA is based on the principle that the City and Port/Airport are forever partners, and need to live, struggle and succeed together."

JOSEPH SCORCIO, AICP

are investigating real issues, asking and developing a shared understanding, discussing community concerns and providing feedback on the airport's construction projects, programs, and operations.

Cooperation among the adjoining cities of Burien, Des Moines, Federal Way, Normandy Park, and Tukwila seems to be at an all-time high. In addition to many projects and committees, the cities are working strategically on environmental issues, looking at shared resources, and opportunities for partnerships. Coordinating and communicating has proven to be an effective working relationship which benefits all the cities. While there are differences on individual issues, there is more common ground because we are all cities facing the same challenges.

Another important partner is Sound Transit, the opening of the Angle Lake Station in 2016, has changed the southern portion of the City, just as the Tukwila International Boulevard (TIB) Station and Airport Stations changed the northern and central portions of our City. During negotiations in 2013, the City insisted that Sound Transit build an 1,100 stall parking structure at the Angle Lake Station. This artistic structure is operating at nearly 100% capacity for commuter parking, and helps protect our adjoining neighborhoods from this traffic and congestion. The City has been addressing parking issues in neighborhoods around the other two Stations that did not incorporate parking garages at the time of construction. Sound Transit and the City are finalizing plans for their last project in SeaTac, which will connect Des Moines, Kent and Federal Way to the Angle Lake Station.

INCREASED TRANSPARENCY, ACCOUNTABILITY AND INCLUSIVENESS

The City Council has affirmed goals to make City government more transparent, ethical, accountable and inclusive. The Council approved Ethic Codes for itself, appointed committees and boards, and for City Staff with annual reporting. The City Council reorganized and expanded the number of advisory boards, creating many more opportunities for residents and businesses to actively participate in City issues and decisions.

Annual reports are required for all advisory boards to ensure that the community knows what's been happening. The Resolution #16-009 declared SeaTac as an ethnically diverse municipality that embraces inclusiveness in its mission and vision and encourages residents and staff to recognize, celebrate and protect the diversity that defines SeaTac.

An updated and vastly improved website is part of the City's ongoing efforts to improve transparency, access to services and overall communication with City residents and business owners. This SeaTac Quarterly magazine has replaced a quality, but more limited newsletter format. The City Manager's Weekly Update tries to provide current events and actions in a quick and easy read. The E-Notify system continues to be expanded, allowing anyone to automatically receive updates on topics, committees and projects of interest (if you aren't signed up – visit our website now!). The SeeClickFix online reporting tool is easy to use, and the phone app allows residents to report common issues (such as potholes, graffiti, street light issues or littering) and track their requests.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND ECONOMIC ACTIVITIES

Since 2013, a wave of high-quality projects that will benefit the SeaTac community for decades are underway or recently completed. One of the largest projects is the Alaska Airlines Copper River Project located on International Blvd. at S 192nd. This office campus project (the "Hub") will link a series of new buildings to Alaska's existing buildings on adjoining blocks. Because of a positive development environment created by the Council and the streamlining of development regulations and processes, Alaska decided to grow its headquarters locally.

There has been a steady growth in the number of high-quality hotel projects including the Residence Inn at Angle Lake, which was built on former City-owned land. The sale helped fund the waterfront park improvement and connection to Angle Lake Park. With nine hotel projects in the works since 2013, developers are currently adding nearly 1,500 new hotel rooms in SeaTac. With nearly 6,000 rooms, SeaTac has the second largest number of hotel rooms in the state. Hotel visitors generate taxes for the City to use to support economic development and tourism purposes, and also provide ongoing support to other local businesses like restaurants.

Housing, mixed use, and hotel projects are happening in the vicinity of all three light rails stations since 2013. City owned properties near the TIB Light Rail Station are currently being sold to developers of both mixed use and residential housing projects. Construction could begin late in 2019. The City is completing plans for improving Military Road in this area. The neighboring City of Tukwila is also constructing a new justice center on land nearly adjacent to these projects. Combined, these projects will provide a catalyst for even more economic growth and investment in the northern part of the City.

The preceding is just a small snapshot of all the activities that have been underway in these last few years. The City, its residents, and businesses are often affected in both positive and not so positive ways by change. The goals of providing for an improving, healthy, and financially sustainable government in a transparent, open, and accountable manner is a challenge that seems to be happening in SeaTac. ♦

2019-2020 BUDGET IN BRIEF

The SeaTac City Council unanimously adopted the Biennial budget for 2019–20 at the November 13, 2018 Regular Council Meeting following three budget workshops in October. The 2019–20 budget maintains service levels, staff levels and reserves for the biennium.

The biennium expenditure appropriation is $142.5 million and estimated ending fund balance for 2020 is $78.3 million across all funds.

The budget is one of the most important documents a local government prepares. The budget functions as a practical tool for setting policy, establishing priorities, and promoting effectiveness and efficiency in operations by identifying services provided and how those services are financed. The process requires months of dedication on the part of all participants, including the City Council, City Manager, Department Heads, and City staff.

What's new in the Budget for 2019–20?

The City Council adopted the biennial budget on November 13, 2018 appropriating $221 million for all City funds in the 2019–20 Biennial Budget period.

THE FOLLOWING ARE BUDGETARY HIGHLIGHTS FOR 2019-20:

- Total staffing levels in the 2019–20 budget period increased 5.3 Full Time Equivalents (FTE's) over the 2018 budget for a total of 139.8 FTE's in 2019 and 138.3 FTE's in 2020 (limited term employees ending in 2019). As part of the decision card process, five additional positions were approved; an Information Systems Analyst, a Parks Operations Supervisor, a Code Compliance Supervisor, and two Civil Engineer II positions (or equivalent) funded by Sound Transit.
- The City Council maintained the General Fund operating reserve policy of four months of operating expenditures, which equates to a reserve amount restriction of approximately $13.4 million of the budgeted $25 million ending fund balance in 2020.
- General Fund decision cards were approved in the amount of $1,111,645. Decision cards in all other funds totaled $2,442,241 for a combined total of $3,553,886 over the two-year budgeting period.
- The City Council did not increase the property tax levy over the 2018 amount plus revenue from new construction. The levy for 2019 is set at $17.1 million. The Council adopted a new policy that as long as the General Fund Reserves are within the set target, the City will not increase its property tax levy.
- No new taxes were authorized in the 2019-20 Budget; The City has several resource options available that are not being utilized including a local business and occupation tax, and utility taxes.
- The 2019-24 Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) includes a total of $49.3 million of capital infrastructure investments over the six years. The 2019-20 portion of the CIP expenditures were balanced within existing revenue sources. The following are the top ten projects funded in the six-year CIP and their total estimated project costs:
 - Implementation of the Safe and Complete Streets Plan to construct pedestrian and bicycle facilities on City streets ($10,110,000).
 - Reconstruction of S. 152nd Street from 30th Avenue S. to Military Rd. S. including sidewalks, street trees, lighting, storm drainage improvements and landscaping ($6,285,000).

Human Services Funding Allocations for 2019–2020

The City of SeaTac contracts with service providers to meet the human services needs of its residents. The funding is made available through 1.5% of the City's General Fund budget. The Community Services Advisory Committee reviewed applications and identified the non-profit agencies that can best meet local service needs and made recommendations to the City Council on funding priorities. Those priorities are based upon addressing the following needs:

- Basic Needs (urgent and long term)
- Education, Training Workshop Development
- Supporting Businesses

In 2019–20, funds were allocated to many agencies. You can view the list here: www.seatacwa.gov/HumanServicesAgencies.

The City continues to offer the Minor Home Repair program that provides subsidized minor home repairs for income eligible SeaTac homeowners. Residents are required to have owned and occupied their home for at least one year, have current homeowner's insurance, and not intend to move in the near future.

If you need assistance or to apply for the Minor Home Repair program, please call Kim Cooper, Human Services Coordinator, at 206.973.4815.

SAFE DRIVING IN RAIN AND SNOW

Winter is fast approaching and with it comes all of the driving hazards associated with cold weather, rain, and snow. Drivers need to adjust his or her driving habits to accommodate hazardous conditions or severely increase the risk of collision. Here are some tips to improve your chances of staying safe:

1. Stay home. Unless you absolutely have to go out in inclement weather, don't.
2. Give yourself ample time to get where you're going. Drivers in a hurry cause collisions.
3. Slow down! The vast majority of collisions are caused by excessive speed, and this condition is amplified by slick roads.
4. Accelerate and decelerate slowly to avoid loss of traction and skidding.
5. Give yourself extra following distance between you and the car in front of you. The good weather rule of thumb is two seconds, in inclement weather, you should allow six to eight seconds.
6. Give yourself at least twice the distance to come to a stop as you would on dry roads. This will allow you the room to stop, even if you go into a skid.
7. Stay awake and alert at all times. You can do everything right but if your fellow drivers do not, they can create hazards for you. Be on the lookout for dangerous drivers, especially at intersections and slow down to avoid them. It may take you longer to get where you're going, but at least you will get there in one piece.

Warming Shelter at SeaTac Community Center

During these cold winter months, the SeaTac Community Center is open as a warming shelter. Come and warm up, charge your devices and enjoy the nice environment. The community center is located at 13735 24th Avenue S. and is open Monday–Thursday 8:30 AM–9:30 PM, Fridays 8:30 AM–5 PM, and Saturdays 8:30 AM–4 PM.

POWER OUTAGE SAFETY

Fall and winter weather bring many challenges to residents in the Northwest. One of the biggest is a power outage.

There are many reasons for them: Tree branches falling on power lines, freezing rain on the lines, and vehicle crashes into power poles are some of the most common we see in the fall and winter.

So, what can a SeaTac resident do to protect themselves and make sure they get through the power outage safely? Consider these safety steps:

- Have flashlights and extra batteries ready.
- Don't use candles for lighting unless absolutely necessary. If you do use candles, blow them out when you leave the room.
- Turn off electrical breakers (at the panel) to sensitive devices such as TVs and computers to reduce the chance of damage from sudden power surges.
- Keep refrigerator and freezer doors closed to reduce thawing.
- Never bring BBQs into your home.
- Keep gas-powered generators away from your home and away from air vents.
- Make sure your smoke and carbon monoxide alarms have fresh batteries in them.

MAJOR PLANNING PROJECTS

2019 Comprehensive Plan Amendment Process—Call for Proposals

SeaTac's Comprehensive Plan presents the community's vision for how the city should grow and change. Every other year (in odd-numbered years), any individual, organization, business, or other group may propose amendments to the Comprehensive Plan. In order to maintain consistency between development regulations and the Comprehensive Plan, the City conducts a concurrent development regulations amendment process.

Amendment Application Packets: Information and application packets are available from the Department of Community and Economic Development, or via the Comprehensive Plan web page at www.seatacwa.gov/compplan.

Application Deadline: The submittal deadline for Comprehensive Plan and development regulation amendments is Friday, March 29, 2019.

City Center Plan Update Project—Opportunities for Community Participation in Winter/Spring 2019

In 2018, staff completed preliminary research and early work on the City Center Plan update project.

During the first half of 2019, there will be multiple opportunities for community and stakeholder involvement in reshaping the vision and plan for how this area should grow and develop in the next twenty years.

See the City Center Plan Web Page for the Project Schedule & Opportunities to Get Involved:

www.seatacwa.gov/citycenterplan

About the Project: The City Center Plan was adopted in 1999, and is a growth and development plan for SeaTac's central commercial core. This project's main goals are to work with the community to re-examine the Plan and update its 20-year vision and growth strategy.

SeeClickFix Phone App Makes Reporting Problems Easier

The City has a free phone app that allows anyone in SeaTac report a problem to City staff using their mobile phone. It is available to download from your favorite app store. Just type in a search for SeeClickFix.

This gives SeaTac residents a quick and easy way to use their smart phone to identify, take a picture of, and report a problem for City staff to address. SeeClickFix can be used to report potholes, litter, graffiti, non-working streetlights and other City related issues. No need to go to the City's web page or try to call in a request, simply follow the steps within the phone app and submit the request. Staff will receive the request and follow up with you on how the problem is being resolved.

Garbage Rates Changing

The China National Sword policy halted the import of recycled paper, cardboard and plastics to China. This action affected more than 50% of the world's market for recyclable materials, has dramatically increased the cost of recycling operations, and has impacted the resale value of recyclable materials. In response to these changes, Recology Cleanscapes requested a temporary recycling surcharge to address new quality standards and maintain existing recycling programs.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR THE CITY OF SEATAC RESIDENTS AND BUSINESSES?

Beginning on January 1 2019, SeaTac solid waste customers need to be aware of the following changes:

- Single-family residents will see a sustainability adjustment of $1.35 per household, plus applicable Consumer Price Index (CPI) adjustment, King County Hazardous Waste Fee increase and King County landfill tipping fee increase.
- Multi-family and commercial customers will see a sustainability adjustment of $4.50 per cubic yard of solid waste service, plus applicable CPI adjustment, King County Hazardous Waste fee increase, and King County landfill tipping fee increase.
- Plastic film will be removed from the list of accepted recyclable materials.
- Increased contamination enforcement standards will begin for multi-family and commercial customers.

SAVE THE DATE! SPRING RECYCLING EVENT APRIL 6

The City of SeaTac is sponsoring another opportunity to recycle items from your home. On Saturday, April 6, the City-sponsored event will launch brand new recycling services such as the recycling of both latex paint and Compact Fluorescent Light (CFL) bulbs. The event runs from 9AM–3PM at Tyee High School, 4424 S. 188th Street.

Anyone recycling latex paint will be asked to pay $1.25/quart, $2.25/gallon or $12.25/5 gallons for disposal of latex paint with no limit. Non-broken CFL bulbs and fluorescent tubes will be accepted as well as the normal list of items.

During the last SeaTac Recycling event on September 22, the City collected just over 50,000 pounds of material, but we can do better! Clean out your storage area and recycle more on April 6.

Contact Program Manager, Mason Giem at 206.973.4763 with any questions.

COMMUNITY CLEANUP EVENT KICKS OFF MONTHLY CLEANING SERVICES

On October 12, City of SeaTac Public Works staff in conjunction with local non-profit Partners in Employment and Recology CleanScapes, picked up litter around Military Road S. City Councilmember Amina Ahmed from Partners in Employment helped organize over 24 volunteers for the event. Recology CleanScapes started new monthly cleaning services for the area including the west side of Military Road S. between S. 150th Street and S. 152nd Street.

NEW PUBLIC LITTER CANS INSTALLED

In response to reports of littering, the City, in conjunction with solid waste hauler Recology CleanScapes, has installed 15 new public place litter cans throughout the City. Look for them near bus stops and places where there are a large number of pedestrians. This new service is part of the City of SeaTac's effort to continue to improve neighborhoods.

2018 Officer of the Year

MET OFFICER BRIAN TAYLOR, the SeaTac Police Department's 2018 Officer of the Year. Officer Taylor has been with the SeaTac PD for 19 out of his 23 ½ years with the King County Sheriff's Office. Officer Taylor spent a majority of his SeaTac PD career as a street crimes plainclothes detective focusing on vice-related matters, narcotics and surveillance. He now works first shift patrol and loves it.

Officer Taylor is originally from Kalamazoo, Michigan. Like many of our community members here in the Puget Sound region, Brian came to this area via the military and decided to make this his permanent home. He has four children, Jasmine, Brian, Jr., Brianna and Jackson.

The officer who nominated Officer Taylor wrote on his nomination form, "Brian goes the extra mile for the residents of SeaTac." The nominator also stated, "I have followed-up on victims or elderly that he has (assisted) and heard how helpful and kind he was to them. When I went to meet with (a victim) she cried telling me how she had never been treated so kindly by an officer and it changed her whole perspective of police." The nomination form also stated, "Brian is quick to answer radio, back his partners, reroute when needed and is pleasant to the public when I've been around him on calls."

Officer Taylor plans to stay with SeaTac PD until he can retire with his fiancé, hopefully several years from now. ♦

SeaTac Adds Six New Officers

You will be noticing additional SeaTac Police Officers patrolling the City streets this winter thanks to the Port of Seattle. SeaTac hired six additional police officers who began their duties on December 1. The hiring is a result of successful negotiations with the Port of Seattle on the 2018 Interlocal Agreement.

The officers' main duties will be to focus on activity related to impacts the airport operation has on the City. Two of the new officers will be on motorcycles and focused on traffic issues, while the other four will be working on reducing the crime and patrolling near and around hotels, offsite airport parking lots, and other parts of the City impacted by airport operations and the industries that support the Port.

In addition to the commissioned officers, two Parking Compliance Officers will be starting in early 2019. They will be responsible for administering the Permit Parking Program and enforcing parking codes throughout the City. Residents and visitors will notice an increase in public safety targeted enforcement throughout the City.
